

ASCENSION MERA PEAK

Mera Peak is a trekking peak, culminating at 6476m. A good acclimatization is vital before taking on a climb like Mera Peak. If you have prior experience of doing a high altitude trek and coped well, then Mera can be an amazing adventure. The high altitude means that even if you are pretty fit, climbing Mera Peak remains a tough challenge: stamina and endurance are necessary, even though no technical skills are needed to complete the climb.

The expedition starts with a beautiful approach up the Arun Valley, where you will see local villages and farmers living on agriculture for generations. The salient features are the views, especially from the summit itself, which are just breath-taking - Everest, Lhotse, Makalu and Baruntse, to name a few. The ascent will be done in the night: just imagine the sunrise turning the peaks of these mountains 'golden' at dawn!

ITINERARY

Day 1 Arrival in Kathmandu

Arrival at the Kathmandu International Airport. Welcome by Altaï Nepal team and transfer you to our hotel. Dinner together with our trip leader, who will give you some important information on the adventure ahead.

Accommodation: Hotel

Day 2 Drive Kathmandu Ramechhap. Flight Ramechhap - Lukla. Trek to Paiya (2850m)

If leaving for Ramechhap on the same day as your flight, depart by night shuttle at 03:00 am for Ramechhap Airport, 4-5 hrs drive. The early morning flight from Ramechhap to Lukla offers spectacular panoramic views of the eastern Himalayas; Langtang, Gauri, Shanker, Numbur, Manglungtse, and finally Everest... It is a lovely 30 min flight to Lukla (2700 m), where Sherpas are waiting for us with specialist equipment. It's indeed a breathtaking landing amid towering mountains. Here, we meet our trailhead towards Paiya, starting with a descent to Surke, where we cross a river before climbing to Chhutok Pass. A beautiful trail with a few up and down section leads us to Paiya.

Drive: 4 hours

Flight: 30 Mins

Trek: 3 hours

Ascent: 1430 m

Descent: 85m

Accommodation: Lodge

Day 3 Paiya - Panggom (2940m)

We start the day with an easy descent, through hillsides rich in agriculture, until Paiya river. We trek through a forest for quite a while before a steep climb to Khari Pass, a viewpoint offering fabulous views of several mountains exceeding 7000m. After a descent through rhododendron forests, we continue our walk along flat trail all the way up to the village of Panggom.

Trek: 7 - 8 hours

Ascent: 115 m

Accommodation: Lodge

Day 4 Pangomm - Ramailo Danda (2950m)

Today, we come across beautiful Sherpa villages on the way, mostly climbing down, before we reach the Panggom Pass at 3220m: enjoy an enchanting view on the Mera Peak. Continue to trek through cultivated land, exchanging few smiles with local villagers and farmers. It's a flat trail most of the time, but there is a steep ascent before reaching Ramailo Dada (literally, fun hill!), where we spend the night.

Trek: 7 hours

Ascent: 80 m

Accommodation: Lodge

📍 Day 5 Ramailo Danda - Chhetra Khola (3345m)

It's a beautiful 'picnic' day (we carry our lunch with us), in that we do most of the walk in forests, with no settlements or local teahouses available for lunch. The trail rises progressively with many zig-zag, through the forest of bamboo and rhododendron, then descends to the Tama River, a serene area to eat our lunch. We continue our trek through the forest to Chhetra Khola.

Trek: 8 hours

Ascent: 400 m

Accommodation: Lodge

📍 Day 6 Chhetra Khola - Kothe (3690m)

Our trekking continues through the forest until Tokthok village, where we see larger settlements like Tashing Ongma. We climb down and meet the Inkhu Khola (Torrent) at Mausam Kharka. We continue to skirt the river before reaching the charming village of Khote: we have entered the Makalu Barun National Park. Now, the views of Mera Peak are already amazing!

Trek: 8 hours

Ascent: 330 m

Accommodation: Lodge

📍 Day 7 Khothe - Thagnag (4260m)

After breakfast at this wonderful place, our day begins with a walk along the bank of a river fed from the melting snow and springs in the surrounding mountains. Cross a forest, and towering peaks on both sides emerge magically, when we reach an open valley. More peaks will thrill us as we gently approach Tagnak village, where we stay overnight. Here, the route up toward the Mera s also visible.

Trek: 6 - 7 hours

Ascent: 572 m

Accommodation: Lodge

Day 8 Thagnag - Khare (4990m)

To begin the day, it's a walk alongside the Dig Tsho glacier, and it is a relatively relaxed walk. We trek through an enchanting valley, with views both on the Hinkhu Glacier and several peaks around. We climb up a steep section to reach the village of Khare, where we spend the night.

Trek: 5 - 6 hours

Ascent: 745 m

Accommodation: Lodge

Day 9 Acclimatization day in Khare

Today is a key day for acclimatisation: we try to gain as much height as we can to prepare ourselves better for the Mera Peak climb, climbing the slopes around Khare. After lunch too, we can head up the slopes to further acclimatize ourselves.

Trek: 6 - 7 hours

Ascent/Descent: As per guide's advice

Accommodation: Lodge

Day 10 Khare - Mera La (5410m) - High Camp (5810m)

Today, we follow a glacier - crampons on - keeping close to zones where there are no crevasses. We climb up a steep trail towards the base camp of Mera Peak, then we continue through Mera La and reach High Camp. We set up our camp at this spectacular setting, while enjoying splendid views of Mt. Everest, Mt. Makalu, Mt. Cho Oyu as well as several other peaks: Lhotse, Nuptse, Chamlang and Baruntse. Overnight at Mera High Camp.

Trek: 6 - 7 hours

Ascent: 865 m

Accommodation: Camping

Day 11 Ascent of Mera Peak (6476m)

ASCENT OF MERA PEAK :: Our team will wake you up quite early: at about 2am (or even earlier, depending on the group size). Sip some hot tea along with a high energy meal to start our ascent of Mera Peak. We cross the main glacier to the south side, and approach the ridge. It's a less technical route but the slopes are still challenging, before we are on the level summit ridge. When we reach the foot of the final ascent, we are attached to a fixed rope laid by your guide and use our ice axe and a jumars to climb and reach Mera Peak Summit. It's a breath-taking, spectacular panorama in front of us, with clear views of the highest mountain of the world: Mt. Everest. Drink in the magical views and congratulate yourself! Now, time to climb down to Khare for a celebration...

Climbing time: 10 - 12 hours

Ascent: 676 m

Descent: 1491 m

Accommodation: Camping

Day 12 Contingency day

It's a contingency day in case of poor weather, etc.

Accommodation: Camping

Day 13 Khare - Kothe (3690m)

It's the same trail (used previously) that takes us back to Kothe. It's time for more celebration: we keep trying out local delicacies and raksi (local wine).

Trek: 5h

Accommodation: Lodge

Descent: 1355m

📍 Day 14 Kothe - Thuli Kharka (4295m)

After breakfast, we start our trek to Thuli Kharka, and it's a "climb up and descend" day. Along the trail, we cross several small torrents before reaching Taktho. We see a couple of Chortens. It's sometimes a steep, downward walk. We climb up a trail to Thuli Kharka.

Trek: 5h - 6h

Ascent: 610m

Descent: 300m

Accommodation: Lodge

📍 Day 15 Thuli Kharka - Zwatrawala - Lukla (2800m)

Today, we walk along a trail full of rises and high plateaux all the way up to Zatrwa La Pass at 4665m. Enjoy once again the view on the Hinku wilderness as well as the south face of the Mera Peak. At first a gentle then steep descent from the Kalo Himal towards the Dudh Koshi valley takes us back to Lukla.

Trek: 7 - 8 hours

Ascent: 510 m

Descent: 1860 m

Accommodation: Lodge

📍 Day 16 Flight Lukla - Ramechhap and drive back to Kathmandu

This morning, we catch a flight to Ramechhap and drive to Kathmandu. In clear weather, the views of the Himalayan mountains are spectacular. We stop for lunch on the way. We visit Bhaktapur on the way, a sumptuous pedestrian city located 15 km from Kathmandu ... the most beautiful of the three imperial cities of the valley Transfer to the hotel.

Flight: 30 m

Drive: 4 hours

Accommodation: Hotel

📍 Day 17 Free day in Kathmandu

Free day in Kathmandu

📍 Day 18 End of the trip

End of our services. International return flight.

Level 5/5

This trips demands excellent physical and mental conditions as well as suitable clothing for high altitude. Regular and serious training (running, swimming, mountaineering...) during the 2 to 3 months prior to your trip is recommended. A solid technical foundation of alpine skills is required. You should have already practiced using crampons and an ice axe.

Terms and conditions

Inscription

Booking a trip with Altaï Nepal implies acceptance of the terms and conditions of sale. Each customer is required to complete a registration form and, subject to availability at the time of registration, travellers are expected to pay a deposit of 30% of the total price to complete their booking. Payments can be made online or by bank transfer. You will receive an e-mail with your booking confirmation.

Facturation

Once your booking is confirmed you will receive an invoice by e-mail. The full balance of the trip must be received at least 30 days before your departure date. Altaï Nepal reserve the right to cancel your booking, free of charge, if this deadline is not respected.

Annulation

If for any reason you have to cancel your trip, Altaï Nepal require written confirmation of your decision. The money you have paid will then be refunded according to the following deductions:

We reserve the rights to cancel departures due to exceptional circumstances which may impact the safety of participants. Such circumstances include those amounting to 'force majeure' in which case participants will receive a full refund but they will not be entitled to any compensation.

Modification du contrat

If you wish to make a change to your booking please contact us in writing; you will be expected to pay any fee which might arise from this change. In the event of unforeseen external events, Altaï Nepal may change some aspects of the travel contract. If any changes are necessary you will be informed as quickly as possible.

Prix et révision des prix

The prices on our website are updated regularly and all of the prices we advertise are accurate when published. Altaï Nepal reserve the rights to make changes to any of these prices. Before you make a booking we will give you the up-to-date price of your chosen holiday including any supplements, upgrades or additional activities you may have requested. If the number of travellers is fewer than the indicated number of participants on the website, a small group surcharge may be applied. For all of our trips we include details of services, prices and what is/is not included but please be aware that changes to the prices may be necessary in accordance with exchange rates or price changes of various components of the journey.

Cession du contrat

If you are unable to travel with Altaï Nepal for any reason, you can transfer your booking to another person in which case our modification conditions apply. Both the transferor and transferee will be jointly and severally liable for payment of the total holiday price and other associated expenses. Some airline carriers treat name changes as cancellations and you may be required to pay for the cost of a new ticket.

Insurance

We strongly recommend that you take out personal travel insurance for your trip with Altaï Nepal as soon as your booking is confirmed. We advise you to purchase a travel insurance policy which covers flight cancellations, luggage loss and emergency health care. Please look carefully at which activities are covered by your insurer and do not forget to bring all necessary documents and information with you (name of the company, name of the contract, insurance policy number, telephone number...)

PRACTICAL INFO

Staff

Based in Kathmandu for many years, Altai Nepal guarantees you an active travel experience, thanks to our guides and our logistical infrastructure. During your trip, you are accompanied by our Altai trekking guides, 100% mobilized to help you discover unusual places in the heart of nature. Let yourself be guided...

- This trip is led by an English-speaking Nepalese trekking guide
- A local team assists you during the trek. Here is its composition (variable depending on the size of the group and the logistics required):

- Porters: during the trek, our belongings are carried by porters. Porterage is a historical tradition in Nepal, necessitated by the very rugged topology of the place. Thus, it is not uncommon to come across locals carrying loads of more than 50 kg on the trails! Being very concerned about the working conditions of our teams, we ensure that our porters work in the best possible conditions (a fair salary, limited charges, insurance, and suitable equipment are made available to all). On our trips, we provide one porter for every two travellers. The load is limited to 30 kg per carrier on our trips to lodges.

- Assistant-guides: in addition to the guide, assistant-guides are present too. They are responsible for providing active assistance to travelers, and make sure all participants to walk at their own pace.

Food

The traditional Nepalese dish is 'dal bhat', rice and lentils, accompanied by some spicy vegetables. In Kathmandu, it is possible to eat a good variety of dishes, but in the mountains, the choice is relatively limited: the lodges (local tea houses) offer menus that are often similar and less varied (e.g. dal bhat, fried noodles, momos, fried rice, pasta with tomato sauce, fried potatoes, etc).

On our group trips: three meals and a snack per day will be served. On long trekking days, you will also have an energy supplement (cereal bars and/or dried fruits).

During lodge treks, we try to offer you the most varied meals possible, with the dishes or ingredients available in the lodges. Some examples: dal bhat (Nepali daily meal), stir-fried rice with vegetables, potatoes with cheese, fries, pasta with tomato sauce, and sometimes even pizza! Note that fresh meat is rare and sometimes not recommended for Western stomachs.

Here are examples of the meals served on our trips:

- Breakfast: toast, pancake or Tibetan bread with butter/jam/honey + eggs + tea or coffee.
- Lunch: a main dish.
- A small snack at the end of the day is offered (biscuits and tea).
- Dinner: a soup, a main course, and a dessert (eg fruit in syrup)

+ a cup of tea and/or coffee is offered with all meals.

In Kathmandu and Pokhara, we often exclude meals, so that everyone can enjoy the variety of restaurants in the cities according to their tastes.

In the mountains, you can fill your water bottles at the tap or at the water sources (on the advice of the guide), but it is essential to filter it or treat it with purifying tablets. The purchase of bottled mineral water may also be possible in lodges, in town, or in restaurants. However, we encourage all to minimize plastic consumption: there is no recycling on site.

Accommodation

In Kathmandu and other cities, you will normally be accommodated in 3 * hotels. In more rural areas, we use homestay accommodation with varying comforts (they all have functioning beds, mattresses, tables, chairs, toilets, etc.) We love using homestay accommodation options which offer insights into Nepalese life and support local families. In addition, the use of lodges considerably reduces the number of porters and cut down the infrastructure of trekking.

Transportation

Transport/transfer by bus, private minibus & plane.

Budget & exchange

The local currency is the Nepalese Rupee NPR.

Visit <http://www.xe.com> for the latest currency converter and exchange rates.

You can withdraw Nepalese Rupees from in-country ATMs in Kathmandu and credit cards are accepted except in shops and hotels. Please budget for meals in Kathmandu, drinks, tips and other personal expenses.

Tips

Tipping is very present in Nepal. It is an integral part of the 'tourism' culture of the country: independent of salary levels, your tip is seen as a sign of appreciation. The amount depends on your satisfaction with the services rendered and your generosity. Your guide will help you on this subject. Like money, if you have clothes to give, do not hesitate to seek advice from your guide who will make a fair distribution. We advise you not to give sweets and / or energy bars / chocolate to local children as there are virtually no dentists here in the mountains. The same rules apply to medicine, western medication is not necessarily adapted for the Nepalese and, moreover, following the correct dosage is extremely important. And of course, do not forget to bring medicines that you take regularly, if any.

Vital equipment

- Warm Sleeping Bag
- Water purifiers (micropur, aguatabs ...)

From head to toe:

- A cap or sunhat
- 1 or 2 sets of thermals: long-sleeved thermal tops and full-length long johns
- Long sleeved and short sleeved t-shirts, preferably in quick-drying technical material
- A light fleece or equivalent (plus extra warm layers if necessary)
- A breathable wind proof, waterproof jacket (Gore-Tex...)
- Lightweight waterproof over trousers
- Suitable shorts
- Walking trousers
- A pair of high-rise walking boots - strength, good grip of the foot and ankle (high stems) and impermeability are essential. Choose shoes with non-slip soles (vibram).
- A pair of trainers/sandels or equivalent casual shoes for cities, villages and evenings
- Thick walking socks
- Warm gloves, hat and scarf (it can be chilly in the mountains)

Do not forget

- Your personal toiletries and a fast drying towel
- Water bottle(s). Min. 2 litres, light and isothermal
- A good pair of sunglasses (think min. category 3)
- Sun-cream, face and lips
- Head torch and spare batteries
- A pocket knife
- A pair of hiking poles
- A waterproof bag cover (or plastic bags) to protect your belongings
- Toilet paper
- Anti-bacterial hand gel
- Your camera
- Notebook or travel diary

For climbing Mera Peak

- A pair of mountain hiking boots for wearing with crampon (B2 or B3)
- Gaitors
- Crampons
- A harness
- A descender or figure of 8
- 2 locking carabiners (for use with gloves, think pear shaped)
- A self-locking Jumar
- A 8mm rope, 1.5 or 2m
- An ice-axe
- A helmet
- A survival blanket

Please contact us to discuss equipment hire options.

Material

We prefer that you do not wear cotton clothing, including underwear, when participating in activities. When cotton gets wet from water or sweat it ceases to insulate and it does not dry fast. The best materials for outdoor activities are fast drying materials like polyester or materials which are warm when wet like wool.

The most powerful materials against the wind and rain are 'breathable' materials like Gore-Tex or Nikwax. Soft shell layers are effective against the wind.

Our advice for keeping warm

Weather conditions in the high mountains can be variable, please think carefully about what clothes you pack especially for our winter trips and remember that the layers you wear next to your skin can make the biggest difference.

We recommend:

- No cotton
- Always carry dry spares of everything, including underwear and gloves

Wear multiple layers including:

1. A warm breathable base layer
2. A second thermal layer
3. Wind and water proof protective outer layers

Luggage

Your luggage must be divided into two bags:

- A rucksack (35-40L or 45-50L) for use as a day bag. This will contain your (vital) personal belongings for the day (sweater, spare t-shirt, water bottle, picnic-lunch, sunglasses, small things ...)
- We use porters to transport our other belongings when trekking. Please bring a flexible travel bag with zips for easy access max 80L and max 13kg (16kg with camping gear). Please do not bring suitcases or other hard bags which the porters cannot transport.
- You may also be able to store some belongings securely at the hotel in Kathmandu.

To protect your bags, we will provide solid waterproof Altai Bags.

The domestic flight between Lukla and Kathmandu is limited to 10 kg of hold luggage, and 3 kg of cabin bags. Altai Nepal supports 2.5 kg of supplement in the hold for everyone, 10 kg for people climbing a trekking peak. Here, trekkers have 12.5 kg in the hold, and those who climb the Island Peak 20 kg.

Medicine

Your guide is a trained first-aider and will carry a full first aid kit at all times during the trip. We recommend that you bring a small personal first aid kit containing any medication you may need such as inhalers, plasters, antiseptic and painkillers.

Passport

Your passport should be valid for at least six months after the last day of your stay. It is your responsibility to confirm your specific passport requirements and please be aware that proof of onwards travel may be required.

Visa

It is your responsibility to confirm your specific visa requirements. Please bring valid passport photos with you to obtain a visa upon arrival.

To obtain trekking permits, your passport and photo ID is also required. Please provide us with good quality scans of your passport and 2 photos of identity.

For an individual visa, obtained on the spot as you arrive in Kathmandu, rates are as follows:

- 15 days : 25 US$ + 1 picture
- 30 days : 40 US$ + 1 picture
- 90 days : 100 US$ + 1 picture

Mandatory vaccines

No mandatory vaccinations are required. Recommended vaccines include Typhoid, Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, Rabies, Japanese Encephalitis, and Influenza.

Health information & recommendations

It is your responsibility to check that your personal health insurance covers everything in this trip. A consultation with your doctor is a prerequisite for any trip and we advise you to visit your dentist too as untreated cavities have an annoying habit of waking up with altitude.

Hygiene Recommendations

Water is not drinkable in Nepal. It is always possible to buy bottled water but in order to limit pollution and preserve natural areas, we strongly recommend that you drink purified water. For that, think to bring a water bottle of minimum 1.5 liters and purifying tablets (micropur, agua tabs ...). Consume only treated water or water which has been boiled for 30 minutes and then filtered. Be sure to wash your hands frequently, and definitely before each meal (anti-bacterial hand gel is recommended) and take care to disinfect any skin wounds. Avoid drinking natural drinks like pressed fruit juice and do not consume ice cream or "lassi" (a milk-based beverage) bought in the street. Meat and fish / shellfish should be well cooked before consumption.

Weather

From the eternal snows of high peaks to the tropical lowlands, Nepal has a wide variety of climates.

- In autumn (October to mid-December) the days are very beautiful but can be fresh at altitude. At 3000 m altitude, temperatures can drop to -10 °C (14°F) at night.

- In winter (mid-december to mid-february): The nights are generally cold and the climate is dry. If night time temperatures drop easily below 0 °C (31°F) to 3000 m, the days are often sunny. Treks below 4000 m are very pleasant. There are very few tourists at this time.

- In spring (March to end of May): in this season, Kathmandu is in full bloom and the rhododendrons are magnificent. The weather is pleasant, it is getting hotter with some night storms. Temperatures vary between 10 and 28 °C (50 - 83°F), but can rise to over +30 °C (+86°F). Between 2000 and 3000 m, temperatures rarely drop below 0 °C (32°F). A few rare frosts or snowfalls are possible in March from +4000 m.

- In summer: it is the monsoon season. This interrupts the majority of trekking from June until the end of September. However, certain regions of the "Trans-Himalayan" zone, Mustang and Dolpo remain sheltered from the monsoons - these are the only circuits available in Nepal in the summer.

Electricity

In recent years, due to a lack of hydropower facilities, electricity and water outages are becoming more frequent in Nepal, especially in Kathmandu (mainly in winter and spring). The hotels have generator but the electricity is limited. It is the same for the consumption of water.

Local time

Coordinated Universal Time (UTC)/ Greenwich Mean Time (GMT) +5.45. Daylight Saving Time (DST) is not observed here.

Sustainable tourism

As adventure and wilderness travel experts who run trips to some of the most remote parts of the world, we take responsible tourism very seriously. We respect the 'Leave No Trace' outdoor ethical code and try to explore this beautiful location whilst causing minimal environmental damage.

Since the beginning, we have advocated for responsible tourism and the importance of equitable and sustainable principles. Harmonising these fundamentals ensures a fair distribution of economic benefits, improved working conditions for local teams and an increased awareness of the importance and practice of environmental protection. We hope that all of our clients will respect our philosophies and embrace these attitudes.

The Leave No Trace policy can be summarized in 7 simple steps which we hope you will follow during our trip...

1. Be prepared
2. Stick to trails and camp overnight right
3. Stash your trash and pick up waste
4. Leave it as you find it
5. Be careful with fire
6. Respect wildlife
7. Be considerate of other visitors

Over the years we have built up good relations with our local suppliers and we are keen to support local businesses as much as possible. We are a small company and we pay our local partners and suppliers directly insuring fair rates.

Our small group sizes not only provide a more intimate adventure but also cause less impact on the environment and local communities. We expect all who travel with us to support and uphold our Sustainable Tourism philosophies.
